Pastor's Heart

The Awakening

Isaiah 55:10-11

"For as the rain comes down, and the snow from heaven, and do not return there, but water the earth, and make it bring forth and bud, that it may give seed to the sower and bread to the eater So shall My word be that goes forth from My mouth; It shall not return to Me void, But it shall accomplish what I please, And it shall prosper in the thing for which I sent it.

Today we see the climate in America changing; justice has been over looked in many areas of society. People in this country feel that there is injustice on every side. People are rioting in the streets but there still seems to be disillusion. Israel was confronted with the same injustice. However, the predicament they faced captivity, was based upon their unwillingness to follow God's instruction. God allowed the Babylonian captivity based on their revolt to God. Here the prophet Isaiah begins to communicate a word from the Lord that would bring healing to that nation.

The transparency of the word God is evident Isaiah begins to remind them of the covenant that has been made with them. Are we the same way, doors have been open but yet we allow them to close in our faces. The answers are yet available to us but time and time again we refuse to make the right choices. Consequences are a part of our every action and there is always a reaction to the wrong choice.

Awake: To make active; to become conscious or aware of something; to stir up

There must be a spiritual thirst for the things of God. Israel became complacent to the things of the covenant therefore loosing valuable insight to the blessing and protection of God.

ANGELIC NEWS

December 2014

Continued

The prophet comes to instruct them that they may find their way back. However, even in their captivity God allowed them to prosper. They were still blessed with homes, land and children. Sometimes you can be in a sinful place and still receive from God the provision that one may need. Yet the favor of God the abundance is not evident in your life. But the protection of God is still there. There is a way back, begin to thirst for spiritual things, Salvation is the key to spiritual success. Come all in and see the blessings of the Lord overshadow you, your children and your children's children. Now, is the acceptable time for the body of Christ to hold on to God unchanging hand. It is important that we remember light is more powerful than darkness and truth is stronger than a lie.
